I had worked with PJ Networks years ago when engaged with another firm. After a couple of years, I had moved on and by and large forgotten about Phil Jaderborg. When my partner and I opened a new firm we worked with various firms and technicians to setup our information technology systems. After two years, we knew we could do better.

I reconnected with PJ Networks and together we worked to implement systems to safeguard our most important assets – our information and our email. Nothing is more important to our firm. Hardware is easy to replace – lost data, communications, and clients – not so much.

Thanks to PJ Networks, we now have redundant systems in place that work. Going forward we enjoy peace of mind knowing that we have a team of knowledgeable technicians at our disposal.

WBA now has a simple, system that works. We have confidence that PJ Networks has the technical expertise. Most important, PJ Networks understands that their success is very much tied to ours. I would recommend Phil and his team without reservation.

Sincerely,
